

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1           1.     A trimmer attachment for a hair clipper, the hair clipper having a
2 stationary blade and a reciprocating blade, the attachment comprising:
3                 means for securing the attachment to the hair clipper; and 4                 a movable trimmer blade operable in response to movement of the 5 reciprocating blade of the hair clipper.

1           2.     The trimmer attachment of claim 1, comprising:
2                 a drive arm at least partially surrounding the reciprocating blades
3 of the hair clipper, and
4                 a blade guide operatively connected to the drive arm and also 5 secured to the movable trimmer blade.

1           3.     The trimmer attachment of claim 2, comprising:
2                 a stationary trimmer blade that complements the movable
3 trimmer blade, the movable trimmer blade reciprocating across the stationary trimmer
4 blade to cut hair.

1           4.     The trimmer attachment of claim 3, comprising:
2                 a housing, the stationary trimmer blade being secured in the 3 housing,
4                 a spring secured to the housing over the blade guide, and 5                 a guide secured to the housing over the drive arm, to hold the 6 drive arm in place.

1           5.     The trimmer attachment of claim 4 wherein the guide also
2 secures the attachment to the hair clipper.

1           6.     The trimmer attachment of claim 4 wherein the base covers the
2 stationary blade of the hair clipper to avoid unintentional cutting by the hair clipper
3 when the trimmer attachment is secured to the hair clipper.

1           7.     The trimmer attachment of claim 1 wherein hair clipper blades
2 have a first width and the movable trimmer blade has a second width narrower than 3 the first width.

1           8.     The trimmer attachment of claim 4 wherein the base has two
2 sides that secure the attachment laterally.